“My art has a dream like feminine quality that is intended to be enjoyed as a visual poem. My intention is no matter what the viewer’s interpretation of my art is, it makes a lasting impression; like a beautiful sonnet that resonates long after reading the last line.”

Artist Statement

As a child I showed a deep interest in literature and poetry, fostering a profound affection for myth. This early love manifested into artistic endeavors, where I frequently crafted visual representations inspired by characters from the books I cherished throughout life. As a published poet, I draw inspiration for my artwork from the poetic realm, whether it be my own verses or those of others. Delving into the nuances of poetry I extract vivid images such as sensory details or admirable characters , transforming them into captivating abstract or figurative paintings.
